STOCKTON ARTS WEEK AND COLLIDE FESTIVAL CALL FOR ARTISTS

Applications now being accepted through July 31, 2019, at 5 p.m.

STOCKTON, Calif. – The City of Stockton is now accepting applications from local artists and arts organizations to provide creative services during Stockton Arts Week, celebrated this year the week of October 11 – 20, 2019. Applications are being accepted in the following three categories: Community Center Workshops, Collide Festival Workshops, and the Collide Festival Sculpture Garden. The deadline for completed applications is July 31, 2019, at 5 p.m.

Proposals will be evaluated by the City's Stockton Arts Week planning committee based on how well the proposal achieves the designated goals. Artists and arts organizations may apply in more than one category. If accepted, those awarded will receive a stipend of $400.00, plus $200.00 to purchase materials. Amounts may vary based on number of accepted proposals. Notification of accepted proposals will be made by August 10, 2019.

The evaluation criteria for the category of Community Center Workshop:

- Projects must be able to be completed in an hour or less;
